COUNCIL MEETING

The regular meeting of the city council was held in the council chamber Wednesday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. Those present were His Worship Mayor Shaw and Councillors Ross, Grier, Grier and Gallagher. The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted on motion of Councillor Grier and Gallagher.

The council first sat as a Court of Revision. Mr. Brown, proprietor of the Queen Hotel, was present and pleaded against his assessment. Moved by Councillors Gallagher and Grier that the assessment on forty feet of lot D, all of lots E and F, be reduced to fifty dollars a foot, the assessment on the balance to remain as at present. The assessment on Brown's property, adjoining Mr. Brown, was also reduced to fifty dollars a foot. This ended the sitting of the Court of Revision.

Alex Taylor, president of the Edmonton Telephone Company, addressed the council on matters connected with the Edmonton telephone system. The franchise between the company and the town expires next month and Mr. Taylor requested that the council meet him to take steps to renew the franchise. A considerable discussion followed the reading of the old franchise. Moved by Councillors Ross and Gallagher that Councillor Grier, on authorizing and the solicitor be a committee to confer with Alex. Taylor, Esq., on the matter and bring in a report at the next meeting.

J. L. Stuchman appeared on behalf of the Great West Saddlery Company in connection with the purchase of a fire brigade harness. The council decided to accept their harness provided it was found to be satisfactory.

The secretary-treasurer reported the defeat of by-law 349 and it was decided to draw up the by-law again and submit it to the electors.

A communication was read from T. A. Stephen resigning his position as city auditor. The resignation was accepted and it was decided to call for applications for a new auditor at the same salary.

E. E. Tink, secretary of the Edmonton Industrial Exhibition Association, requested permission from the council to hire city constable Ridd as chief of the special police for the exhibition. The request was granted.

A communication was read from Capt. H. H. Ross, of Medicine Hat, in the matter of building a steamboat at Edmonton for the river trade. The secretary-treasurer was authorized to answer the communication.

Applications were read requesting the extension of the waterworks system to serve Second and Third streets. River lot 10, and on Queen street from Jasper avenue to Rice street. These were referred to the engineer with instructions to proceed with the work provided the petitioners comply with the necessary conditions.

The city engineer then reported on the settlement of the various matters referred to him. A team for the fire brigade was purchased by the engineer for a cost of $415. The team was first examined by J. A. Pickering, V.S., and pronounced to be perfectly sound and in first-class condition. The following additional supplies for the Edmonton fire brigade will be immediately ordered, 1,500 feet of 2 1/2 inch cotton hose two flexible nozzles, eight rubber coats, one dozen sandvipers, and one pair rubber aqueducts. The question of coal supply for the power house was discussed and the city engineer instructed to make arrangements for the purchase of one thousand tons of coal. The price for the coal was fixed at $1.10 per ton, delivered to the power house. It was decided to notify Wills & Deyl, who had been awarded the contract of building a sidewalk on Fourth street, that unless they commenced work within one week, provided material can be procured, their contract would be cancelled. The special license by-law came in for a great deal of discussion. It was moved, seconded and unanimously carried that the real estate agents' special license fee be reduced from $100 to $50 and that in cases where one agent acted in different licensed employments, the combined fee shall not exceed $75. The bill or was instructed to prepare a by-law to this effect. The following by-laws were then carried:

By-law 250, to provide for a grant of $1,000 to the Edmonton Industrial Exhibition, was given its third reading and was finally passed.

By-law 251, to provide for the setting aside of $7,000 for the purchase of certain lands for a museum ground and for purchasing lots for a gravel pit. This by-law was given its third reading and was provisionally passed, voting to take place on Monday, July 20th.

CLEAN UP THE STREETS

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week will be held the Edmonton Industrial Exhibition. Such an exhibition is sure to be a source of great good to the town. There will be thousands of sightseers in Edmonton during the fair days, a large number of them for the first time. The impressions these people form of our town will be carried away with them and thus Edmonton's reputation for cleanliness and neatness will be carried far and wide. We must not belittle this style of advertisement for it is a really productive of much good. It is, therefore, the duty of every public-minded citizen of this town to do all in his power to have visitors carry away correct impressions of Edmonton. From a standpoint of scenic attractions our location is second to none in the West. The abundant trees give Edmonton a park like appearance, which is strikingly beautiful. There is one matter that demands immediate attention and that is the condition of our streets. Some of them are in a disgraceful state from rubbish lying on them. We do not refer to the streets where excavations are being made for the waterworks system, nor the places where building material is piled on the street, preparatory to being erected into large houses and stores. These are eloquent testimonies to the progress and advancement of the town and are looked upon as such. The objection is being made to the loose pieces of board, paper, cans, etc., that are lying about on many of our back streets and also on some of our principal streets. This gives visitors a bad impression and, as it is so easily remedied, the matter should be dealt with at once. If every householder would see that those sections of the street upon which his property fronts, be cleaned up, the present nuisance would be readily overcome. Another matter that requires attention is the appearance of many of the buildings along Jasper avenue. In too many cases there are frame structures that have not had a touch of paint for years if they ever had. With very little expense the appearance of these buildings could be greatly improved, with definite profit to the owner. Flags are hunting can be used to great advantage. Our citizens should see to it that these matters are attended to promptly, so that Edmonton will appear at her very best during Exhibition week.

BEAVER HILLS

An interesting game of baseball was played here on Saturday evening by teams representing Partridge and Beaver Hills. The play was very even until towards the end of the game, when the visitors forged ahead winning by a score of 16 to 24. The finding on both teams left much to be desired and is responsible for the large score. The players were:

EDMONTON INDUSTRIAL FAIR

Farmers' Advocate, June 26th.

The men behind the wheels of the Edmonton exhibition are getting things in good shape for the show this year. In ten days from date it will be with us, and every farmer and stockman within reach owes to himself and family a day or two in the growing northern town. Every true citizen is bent upon building up the country in which he lives and the best interests of the people within a reasonable distance of Edmonton are those of the show itself. Stand by it, therefore, not only by being present, but by giving every other support possible. Their promises to the good exhibit of live stock and agricultural products, besides other interesting and instructive features that will give those who attend recreation and food for much valuable thought. Reduced railway rates will prevail from all stations between Medicine Hat and Banff, on the main line, and south as far as McLeod. From Calgary the return fare will be only five dollars, so that a large number will surely attend.

BEAVER LAKE EAST

The warm weather has dried up the roads and sloughs very much. The roads are now as good as they were years ago.

Mr. Foster, west inspector, passed through lately on a tour of inspection. He was much charmed with the beauty of the scenery along the lake. He stated that he had seen no crops further advanced than here, except at Bruderheim.

The bear question is an active topic at present. The black bear referred to in my last, has been seen several times since, but I have not heard of any damage done by him, that amongst the Galicians a different tale is told. It seems that a brown bear, after devouring a few gymnastic feats on the mud roofs of a Galician's barn and shack, smashed in a window, overturned a barrel of sauerkraut, and killed a calf. At another ranch the same bear, or another, killed two more calves and some turkeys, gobbled up some eggs and made himself one of the family, as it were, entering the role of prodigal son with variations. Again, I am informed that a small band of cattle was chased by a bear and one of them returned somewhat mutilated; others are very missing. I do not vouch for all these reports, though they are very facts. The question is: What are our young sports doing? Is there no close season for calves, turkeys and sauerkraut, or is there one for bears?

In speaking of the Ladies' Aid picnic I forgot to state that Mr. Cyrus Young furnished the ice, a much needed article. Mr. Young, who is a new settler, has set us a good example in storing several tons of ice. It is to be hoped that more will go and do likewise next winter.

I am informed that the timber inspector is making things interesting to some out this way, was interpreted the jaw a little comely so as to benefit themselves.

As far as I can find out the area in crop this year is fifteen per cent larger than last year. As to the state of the crops opinions differ, but it may be safely stated that they are in excellent condition and as far advanced as at this time last year. As I write we are having a gentle and refreshing rain.

VERGIVILLE

An event of special importance to the people of the Vermilion Valley country transpired last week. It was the welcome return of Mr. Alton and his crew of efficient bridge builders. The particular purpose of Mr. Alton's return was to put a bridge across the Vermilion river a mile east of Vergiville. At the time of writing the Vermilion bridge is well under way and will be completed in a few days. Upon his arrival Mr. Alton found that the two bridges which he had built across Washaway Creek last winter were run as he left them, the work of making the approaches and doing the necessary grading, which was left in charge of the road overseer was yet unfinished. This unfinished work has been a source of much annoyance to the travelling public, and rightly so, for although good substantial bridges were constructed they were of no service whatever. The people in this country are an exceedingly good class and will welcome a man of such excellent business and executive ability as Mr. Alton.

The Bishop of Saskatchewan and Alberta, with his party, passed through here last week on their way to Saskatoon. The bishop informs us that he was with fourteen men for work in different parts, one of the men to be stationed in Vergiville. If the Bishop plays a mad here we shall have a very good share of preacher (five) in our immediate neighborhood. We are hoping that these in authority will show common sense in their efforts to have unnecessary overlapping of work or foolish expenditure of money through rival efforts is unnecessary work.

Rev. R. S. Longley, who is so kindly alternating with our Presbyterian brethren in the services held in the Vergiville schoolhouse, has opened up work at Harry Hill, some twenty miles north of here. We are pleased to hear of the kindly interest taken by the people in all the new settlements.

In all efforts put forth for their spiritual good.

The population has increased recently by two little visitors have arrived at the home of Mr. Joe Fleming and Mr. Eugene Poole.

Owing to Mr. Lambert's removal from the Vergiville school district, a new election is necessary to fill the position held as school trustee.

ALBERTA FOR SETTLERS

A Minnesota farmer, who in company with four others, recently made a tour through Alberta, N. W. T., thus describes his experiences:—

"We were looking for a farm suitable for mixed farming, and, having looked over the country with great care from Calgary to Edmonton, we finally decided that if offered all the advantages we were looking for, the party of five homesteaded and bought Canadian Pacific land amounting to 1,700 acres. To say that we are highly pleased would be putting it lightly, as we were there for business, and formed our conclusion from what we saw and from the natural inducements of the country. One of these is a very rich, black soil, with a deep yellow clay sub-soil, such as you see in Central or Northern Illinois, and as I was a settler on a farm in that state, I think I am competent to make a fair comparison. Another is an abundant supply of good pure water, which is obtained at a very reasonable depth and does not cost a man half the price of his farm to get a well of water, as it does in some places. Another great inducement is a sufficient amount of timber for building purposes, and for fuel which are all free to actual settlers. These three natural inducements, connected with a climate such as they have in Alberta, will, no doubt, in time make it one of the best farming countries to be seen, and from the number of people who are going there from the States and from eastern Canada, thereby giving it, in the start, the advantage of the experience of a variety of farmers of different methods of farming, seems to me, as it would appear to any fair minded man, to lead to results which are not only natural, but of the best. Having obtained these most essential features of any country, we turned our attention to what the government offered as inducements to settlers going there, and found some of these to be, first, that taxes are only nominal, being very light; second, that the government protects the timber and coal for the use of the settlers, all of which can be found to be true when there, and third the government assists in the support of the public school."
